Training for International Accreditation

Two representatives of the international accreditation institute ASIIN Consult GmbH travelled with us to Tunis in order to train all DICAMP Partners how to apply for the international accreditation. The training workshop took place at ENIT from September 26 to September 27 and provided useful insights and tips about the special criteria in writing the application were provided by ASIIN. But still there is a lot to do that is why DICAMP partners will meet again from November 13-19th 2013 in Tunis in order to work focused on the documents that need to be written and put the accreditation report together.

DICAMP Summer School in Tunis

In order to review one year of the DICAMP master programme and to welcome the second class of 30 new DICAMP students we organized a DICAMP summer school from September 30th – October 6th 2013. The president of the University of Tunis El Manar, Prof. Abdelhafidh Gharbi, the national TEMPUS Office Coordinator in Tunisia Mohamed Salah Harzallah as well as the German Ambassador Jens Plötner were amongst the guests of the grand opening of the Summer School. Mr. Plötner pointed out the importance of international academic cooperations for the training of the students and the development of Tunisia. Another highlight of our opening was the enrolment of 30 new DICAMP students who have been selected out of over 600 applicants. The second cohort completed the Master program's first module "Introduction – the content and context for innovation management" taught by Anis Allagui and Aida Besbes at the beginning of October. Another informal event was the spontaneously organized football match where European professors could demonstrate their athletic strength while playing against Tunisian students.
